

Job 1086 Common Street

Common Street project # 1086 finally has come to an end.... Although going through struggles it has been completed as a successful project.

The project affected several businesses, the traveling public, schools and airport traffic. The type of work we do as a construction company affects everyone located near and on a project, so we decided as a group to "Give back to the community".

Along with DOTD we set a goal and poured a basketball court for a local "Church/School". Victory Baptist Church located on the south end of Common Street is a school for underprivileged kids. Most of their funding comes from fund raisers and from parents who donate. Their budget is "Small" to say the least.

I went to the school and asked them on how we could help and they asked for a basketball court. Although it took us a while to build this court, we finally set a date on April 21, 2011 we poured the basketball court. The principal was very happy and said they would have never had the money to have this court if it would not have been for "Gilchrist".

This along with the effort put forth on the project is what makes a project "Successful"

Thanks to everyone who helped make this happen!!

Thanks,
Aley Lachney
